2. How has Hemingbrough Village changed over

St Mary's Church was built in the late 12th Century.

The church and the rest of the early settlement stood on a small area of higher ground approaching the river bank. During the early Middle Ages, the Ouse cut a shorter course, causing Hemingbrough to lose no longer run beside the river.

Hemingbrough's Main Street was called Town Street until the late 1900's. The name was changed because although Hemingbrough was an important place at one time, by the end of the 1st World War it was no more than a small village.

Many of the modern houses on the main street were built in the 18th Century.

Hemingbrough CP School was built in 2008.

3. Why did people choose to settle in Hemingbrough?

The Vikings first settled in Hemingbrough on the banks of the River Ouse.

They settled near the river so they had an easy way to travel to and from the settlement. This gave them opportunity to explore using their boats.

This also helped them to source food, wood and other resources that they didn't already have, from other places.

The river also acted as the settler's water source.

4. Can you name two street names in Hemingbrough and describe how they got their name?
